A FINE LIST OF NOMINATIONS.

FOUR HUNDRED AND TWENTY RECEIVED-IN-CREASED AVERAGE OVER THAT OF

LAST YEAR. The list of entries to the stakes offered by the Driving Ciub of New-York for the Grand Circuit trotting meeting of 1895 was given out yesterday, and it comprises 429 nominations from leading horsemen in all parts of the country, several entries coming from as far west as California. In fact, nearly every State in the Union is represented in the list, which is said to be the largest ever rethe dist, which is said to be the largest ex-ceived by any trotting association for a like num-ber of stakes. Last season the average number of entries in each class was 37, while this year it is 47, showing an increase of ten in a class, and proving pretty conclusively that harness racing can be carried on successfully under the new State Constitution. Following is a partial list of the entries: 2:15 CLASS-TROTTING-STAKE, $3,000.

SHOOTING FOR THE GOULD CUP. WON BY ARTHUR DUANE-CONTESTS AT THE

COUNTRY CLUB. The holiday shoot of the Country Club, held on its beautiful grounds on the Sound in Westchester, Priday, was one of the most successful the club has ever held. Fully twenty of the crack shots among its members participated in the sport, and highly creditable scores were made. More than ordinary interest was taken in the shoot, as George J. Gould had offered a silver cup as one of th prizes to be contested for. The day was all that could be desired, and there was a large gathering of club members and their guests. The clubhouse was made doubly cheerful by the presence of an unusual number of women. The shoot was Mr. Gould's first public appearance before the traps, and he acquitted himself well. He took part in several sweepstakes, and in one killed five birds straight. The contestants for the Gould Cup shot at fifteen birds each. It was won by Arthur Duane, who killed fourteen. William H. Sands was second with thirteen and J. S. Williams third was second with thirteen and J. S. Williams third with twelve. Mr. Williams had particularly bad luck, as two of his birds fell dead just out of bounds. He made up for it later, however, by winning three sweepstakes. Among the others who took part in the cup shoot were Mr. Butler, Arthur Sullivan, N. Reynal, E. C. Potter, Robert Lawrence, W. S. Edey, Fred Edey, Edward L. Amontang, Lanfear Norrie and De Forest Manice.

One sweepstakes match was won by D. S. Bacon and Robert Lawrence, who tied. Harry Redmond, George J. Gould and J. S. Williams killed five birds straight in the next match and divided the honors. The winner of the Gould Cup generously filled it up several times with a certain sparkling liquid, and all hands drank to the health of both winner and giver.

ICE YACHTS ON THE SHREWSBURY. Red Bank, Feb. 23 (Special).-With the wind blowing a clipping galt and hard ice to glide over, the second and third class boats of the North Shrewssecond and third class bodis of the North Shirws bury Ice Yacht Club sailed to-day for prizes of pen-nants and filver. The morning race was for the pennants in the two classes. Four boats started— Charles Allen's Edna M. and William McMahon's Get There, of the second class, and Thomas Riddle's class. The sailing distance was fifteen miles, made half to windward. Edna M. won in the good time of 30 minutes 30 seconds, beating Get There 12 seconds. Dalsy hauled out after sailing half the race, leaving Baby Ruth to finish in 32 minutes 5

The sliver prize race took place this afternoon, and these yachts started: James B. Weaver's Kittle in these yachts started: James B. Weaver's Kittle in the second class, and Charles Burd's Zip in the third class. When half the race was sailed the little lateen craft Baby Ruth surprised everybody by being ahead, closely pushed by Captain Weaver's by being ahead, closely pushed by Captain Weaver's yacht; Get There was 23 seconds behind Kittle. While sailing down the river Get There got a hard puff of wind which the others did not feel, and as a result the yacht soon forged to the front. After that she was never headed, sailing the race in 35 minutes and 2 seconds. Baby Ruth was second and Kittle third. Having been entered as a second-class yacht in this race, Baby Ruth was entitled to the second prize.

The third-class yachts will race on Monday for two silver prizes, given by Commodore S. Morford. The second-class boats will sail for the club pennant the same day, and the New-Jersey challenge pennant race will also be sailed.

DR. CARVER THE BETTER MARKSMAN. Davenport, Ill., Feb. 23.-At the Forester Gun tournament yesterday Dr. Carver won the third of the series of championship shoots with ease. The score was 39 to 77. In the other contests the straight string winners were Budd, Carver, C. M. Grim, Clear Lake, Iowa; Thomas Marshall, Keithsburg, Ili.; V. T. Boltenstern, Lynn Centre, Ull., and Frederick Gilbert, Spirit Lake, Iowa.

The total receipts for the year were $1,281 40, and the expenses, $2.021.09, leaving a balance on hand of $1,250.31. Charges were made that Lafayette College was no longer entitled to membership as she did not start an athlete in the championships last year. Affidavits were submitted, however, that Hiram Smith, of that college, had started in the half-mile run, and Lafayette was restored to her

The State University of Iowa, the University of California and the Syracuse University made appli-cations for membership. California's application was signed by Mare Anthony, which caused the first roar in the meeting. California and Syracuse were admitted without a dissenting vote, but there was a considerable controversy over the State University of Iowa. Iowa was finally admitted by a vote of 19 to 7, Columbia refusing to vote. Most of the large colleges voted against the admission of lows.

PENNSYLVANIA'S CLEVER COMBINATION. It was whispered at this point that the Philadelphia politicians had been at work, and late happenings seemed to prove it. The University of Pennsylvania began to have her own way it and Princeton were snowed under

F. S. Ellis and his blond beard were much in evidence during the afternoon, and he was on the floor almost constantly. C. H. Sherrill, of Yale, proved his sturdiest opponent, but the "Me Too" of Princeton was soon hushed. Harvard was diplomatic, and her delegates, seeing the way that the tide was turning, sensibly held their peace and either said nothing or refused to vote. The small colleges stuck to Pennsylvania throughout, and the Quakers calmly plucked about all the plums in Maischied, of the University of the City of New York. Sherman Day, of Yale, was beaten by one vote for a place on the board.

THE A. A. U. MATTER. And then the matter of an alliance with the Amateur Athletic Union came up. The old Executive Committee, which had met the A. A. U. dele gates on Friday, submitted its report, and recom mended an alliance. The report was accepted, and C. H. Sherrill and C. Richards, of Yale; P. Vre-denburgh, of Princeton; James P. Lee, of Harvard, and H. L. Geyelin, of the University of Pennsylwere appointed a committee to have charge of the matter. One delegate wanted the matter settled in open meeting and another opposed any alliance. After further discussion it was left to the committee, which will make its report to the various colleges, colleges will decide the question by mad Each college will have three weeks in which he its answer. Cornell was the only college ore against the alliance outright.

B. Curtis, Julian W. Curtiss, A. G. Mills and Julius Harder, representing the A. A. U., were recognized near the door and they were asked to enter. They had five minutes to tell their little tale woe. W. B. Curtis told the boys that the A. A. was simply looking toward the advancement of way their independence. A. G. Mills in his usual diplomatic style thanked the collegians for their courtesy in receiving them and said that the A. A.

Pennsylvania threw another bomb into the convention, when her talking delegate, F. S. Ellis, arose and calmiy read a resolution, the purport of which was that a team of college champions be sent to Engand to meet the best men of Oxford and Cambridge, the time suggested being next July.

This brought Sherrill, of Yale, to his feet with a vicorous protest, and Princeton again said, "Metoo" Harvard was asked for her opinion. The crimson delegate said that athletic affairs were mixed at Cambridge, and that he had nothing to say except that the Athletic Committee at Harvard was likely to say a great deal, and the faculty a great deal more. When the question was put to a vote the trip was decided upon by 15 to 3, Princeton, Yale and Columbia being the minority, and Harvard refusing to vote. The men who finish first and second in the intercollegiate championships will be qualified to go to England as America's representatives. Pennsylvania threw another bomb into the con-

HIS PLAN FAILED.

From The Detriot Tribune.

The crone's eyes glittered.

"Your fortune." she croaked. "I will tell your fortune."

With a wild cry the girl fied.

"No, nc, no," she shricked.

"Foiled again," muttered the income tax collector.

But he was not discouraged. There were other methods. He could still guess at it.

CLUB GROUNDS.

EXCELLENT WORK BY THE MEMBERS-PRIZES PRETTY EVENLY DIVIDED.

The Dog Show pigeon shoot of the Westminster Kennel Club took place yesterday on the grounds of the Westminster Kennel Club at Babylon, L. L. the scene of many of the greatest pigeon matches ever contested. Not only was the shooting ability of the club brought out strongly yesterday, but its social side as well. It was a great gathering of representative clubmen and their guests that boarded the special train which left Long Island City at 10 a. m., and the run was quickly made to the Babylor the passengers to the clubbo

Among the guests were J. G. K. Duer, George de Forest Grant, Judge Henry A. Gildersleeve, E. C. Potter, Charles Haswell, Jordan L. Mott, jr., Robert B. Lawrence, M. S. Edey, Arthur Sullivan, Knapp de Forest, Arthur Dean, Robert Dean, E. F. Randolph, Major David Crocker, R. D. Foote, William

Knapp, Joseph Sammis, Louis Milligan, C. D. B. Wagstaff and Phoenix Remsen.

George S. Mott, superintendent of the grounds, had everything in readiness for the shoot. A fine lot of birds had been provided. The shooting con-sisted of sweepstakes matches, the conditions of each being given in the summary. The wind blew freely, and, being from the rear of the traps, greatly ac and, being from the fear of the traps, greatly ac-celerated the flight of the birds. The consequence was they were mostly all drivers, and hard, fast ones at that. It would be unjust to speak more favorably of one marksman than another, as none that faced the traps did otherwise than well. In fact, the prizes were quite equally divided up among

There was a stoppage of the fun for an hour during the day to permit the hungry men to partake of the "spread" served in the clubhouse. The party shortly before 5 p. m. returned to the special train and got back in the city in time for dinner. The summary of the matches is as fol-First sweepstakes Miss and out. J. Williams, 30 yards

UNAPPRECIATED FRIENDLINESS. From The Chicago Record.

From The Chicago Record.

There was a funny scene in the room of the President's private secretary the other day. A number of Senators, Representatives and strangers were sitting around awaiting an opportunity to see the President, when Mr. Carlisic passed through. His face was pale and bore a dejected appearance, his head hung over his breast and his eyes were on the carpet, as if he wished to avoid observation. Private Secretary Thurber sat chatting cheerfully at his desk, but when he noticed the chief of the Transury he sprung from his chair, crossed the room with a cheerful hop, skip and jump, and, seizing Mr. Carlisle's hand, exclaimed: "Good morning, Mr. Secretary, good morning! How are your finances this morning."

Mr. Carlisle looked at him with an expression of unutterable disgust and passed through the door into the President's room without making any reply.

CHICAGO THEATRES USED AS CHURCHES.

From The Chicago Record. It is said that the theatres in the business district of Chicago take in more money on an average Sun-day night than is taken in by all the amusement enterprises of any other open Sunday town in America day night than is taken in by all the amusement enterprises of any other open Sunday town in America.

If this be true it may also be said that probably nowhere else are so many theatres converted into churches Sunday morning.

At 11 o'clock in the morning the stage is a sanctuary, with dim light failing through Gothic windows and a minister in plain black softly reading to an orderly but rustling congregation.

Exactly ten hours from that time the same stag is hung with jeweiled nonsense, flooded by calcilling than an filled with capering ballet girls.

There is an orthodox prejudice against holding religious services in a playhouse, but it has been overcome in Chleago. Every Sunday morning there are services at McVicker's Theatre, Hooley's Theatre, the Grand Opera House and Central Music Hall. Sunday-school is held in the Schiller Building. Smaller halls, such as may be rented in the Masonic Temple, Auditorium or Athenseum, are used as meeting-places for denominations limited in membership.
